President's Message to the Class of 1995

Dear Graduates:

I hope in the years to come as you look through this yearbook that you will find much to recall with fondness from your time spent at Bridgewater. My own college yearbook continues to be a source of pleasurable reading for me because it is a treasury of faces, places, and events that profoundly shaped my life.

Your student days at Bridgewater coincided with a particularly eventful period in the college's history. While your class was here, our transition toward the technological future which will be the framework for how we teach and learn in the decades to come began in earnest. Academically, we established a School of Arts and Sciences and a School of Education, with deans as heads of each. Physically the campus changed too, with the acquisition of new land, the building of the John Joseph Moakley Center for Technological Applications, and the final planning for the MBTA commuter rail expansion going forward.

Every one of you, in one way or another, had an impact at this college because every student who comes here has an influence on Bridgewater. I hope you will always feel welcome here and you will visit frequently. Bridgewater relies on the involvement and support of its graduates to sustain its educational and public service missions.

May this yearbook serve as a permanent invitation to be part of the life of Bridgewater State College.

Sincerely,

Adrian Tinsley

The BSC faculty operated under extreme circumstances for the 1994-1995 academic year. The faculty, as well as many other College staff members, were uncontracted for close to three years at the beginning of the fall semester. Feeling left with no other choice, many faculty members chose to boycott extracurricular events which were not included in their previous contract. This included Senior Convocation, advising sessions, and student organization advising. Students were both opposed and supportive of these actions. We at the Yearbook only wish to express our hopes for an upcoming resolve to these contract disputes.

Deemed the Trial of the century, the O. J. Simpson trial took the media by storm. As a prior national role model for many youngsters as well as adults, Simpson was accused of brutally murdering his ex-wife, Nicole Brown Simpson and her friend, Ronald Goldman. As a result of so much public interest, even the preliminary hearing was televised for all Americans to see. The feature was a broadcast legal battle between O. J. Simpson's "Dream Team" of defense lawyers and prosecutor of the DA's office, Marcia Clark.

Refugees fleeing the dictatorial regime of Fidel Castro were refused entry into the United States, ending 28 years of favored treatment for Cuban refugees. He ordered U.S. ships to intercept those fleeing Cuba by boat to detain them at the U.S. Navy base in Guantanamo Bay.

Tropical Storm Alberto hit the South, the Georgia floods made history with the storm that unloaded more than 20 inches of rain and caused flooding that killed 31 people. Forty-nine counties were declared federal disaster areas and about 46,000 people were driven from their homes. In Albany, 30,000 people were evacuated and 9,200 houses and apartments were damaged or destroyed.

President Bill Clinton entered the second year of his presidency with high hopes. Although he won a significant political battle with the crime bill in 1994, his most important mission of 1995 still seemed to be to establish a stable health plan.

Nelson Mandela was elected to govern the violent country of South Africa. The 76-year-old leader won in the country's first all-race election that ended white minority rule and made Mandela the first black South African leader.

After years of sparring between the Hutus and the Tutsi minority in the African country of Rwanda, a peace accord was signed in 1993. But more than a million refugees were forced to flee to Zaire and other neighboring countries a year later after the victory of the mainly Tutsi Rwanda Patriotic Front. Cholera killed thousands of refugees in several camps. But the United Nations says massacres left more than 500,000 dead.

President Jean-Bertrand Aristide was elected president of Haiti in late 1990. But less than a year later he was arrested by the military and expelled from the country. Coup leader Lt. Gen. Raoul Cedras assumed presidential powers and declared the army to be in charge. A negotiating team, led by former President Jimmy Carter, struck a deal with Gen. Cedras that included U.S. troops to occupy the island and Mr. Aristide was returned to power. At one point, more than 20,000 U.S. troops occupied the island.

After 46 years as enemies, Israel and Jordan made peace and all but ended the threat of another war between the Jewish state and its Arab neighbor. With President Bill Clinton presiding at a White House Mideast Peace ceremony, Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin and King Hussein of Jordan met in public for the first time, shook hands and signed "the Washington Declaration" that announced: "The long conflict between the two states is now coming to an end. In this spirit the state of belligerency between Israel and Jordan has been terminated."

Forest Fires swept across more than a dozen western states. An eight-year drought brought the United States its worst forest fires since the 1920's, blackening some 3 million acres. Fourteen firefighters were killed in a blaze in Colorado while thousands of firefighters from all over the country were mobilized to keep the fires under control.

As President Clinton's biggest legislative goal of the year, National Health Care failed to come to a vote in Congress. Legislative guarantee of medical care to all Americans was a notion that helplessly staggered under the weight of withering attacks from Republicans and insurance interests.

As a 10-year pro with the San Francisco 49ers, 31-year-old Jerry Rice became the league's all-time leader of career touchdowns. He was able to complete two touchdown receptions and a 23-yard scoring run in the season opening 44-14 victory against the L.A. Raiders. This increased his career total to 127.

The latest album by the Chicago-based group called Smashing Pumpkins was panned by the critics. But that didn't stop "Siamese Dream" from climbing to the Top 10 and spending months on the top-selling charts. Although a quartet on stage, much of the work is done almost singlehandedly by founder Billy Corgan.

Garth Brooks was named the Academy of Country Music's Entertainer of the Year for the fourth straight time. This versatile performer had three albums on the Billboard Top 200 list. As one critic said: "Garth Brooks somehow manages to recreate that pure country sound that cuts through all the nonsense to touch hearts and simply have fun."

BASEBALL'S 3rd STRIKE
THE FANS ARE OUT

The Baseball Season ended early in 1994. The players went on strike in August and a month later the owners voted to cancel the remainder of the regular season, including the playoffs and the World Series. It was the first time since 1904 that the World Series, which had survived world wars and an earthquake since its inception in 1903, was not played.

One critic called their music "pseudo grunge," but Stone Temple Pilots didn't let that bother them. Even while previous album "Core" was still on the charts, they made it to the Top 10 with "Purple." This San Diego-based group can crank it out with some sturdy guitar talent.

Toni Braxton sings the smooth sounds of rhythm and blues. She captured critical and commercial success with songs like "Breathe Again" and "Another Sad Love Song." Her latest album, "Toni Braxton" hit the top of the charts in 1994. Said one critic, "She is blessed with both a commanding voice and the good sense not to overuse it."

The one-time bad boys of Boston are still alive and kicking. While onstage, 46-year-old Steven Tyler displays the undying, fired up energy to belt out hoarse verses of kissin' and squeezin' while the rock beat heats up the already steamy performance.

After hearing about the legendary rock festival from their parents for years, a new generation seized the opportunity to create their own Woodstock. Several hundred thousands of people traveled to Saugerties, N.Y. for Woodstock '94. From folk music to heavy metal, the weekend concert was filled with music almost 24-hours a day.

Andre Agassi was the people's choice at the U.S. Open Tennis Championship in New York. After an easy win against Michael Stich of Germany, the 24-year-old Agassi became the first unseeded player to win the crown since Fred Stolle in 1966 and only the third in the 114-year history of the tournament. It was Agassi's first U.S. Open title.

The 1994 World Cup soccer competition was played in the United States. In this photo, the U.S. team played Brazil but lost 1-0 in the second round. An estimated 2 billion people worldwide watched Brazil battle Italy to a 0-0 tie for 120 minutes at the final game played in the Rose Bowl. Brazil won 3-2 in a shootout.

Heather Whitestone is the first hearing-impaired woman to achieve her goal of becoming Miss America. The junior at Jacksonville State University reads lips, uses a hearing aid and now sign language. Even though she could only feel the vibration of the music, her ballet performance was not impaired.

Well, this is it. My final year as Editor in Chief and as a member of The Bridgewater State College Yearbook. I want to tell my staff how much I appreciate their hard work and all the time they have put in. You have all made it a great year for me, even if I was a little impatient at times. I have really enjoyed this year and know that I will always remember my senior year, mostly because of you all. I wish you all the best in times to come and if you ever need anything, you know where I'll be hiding.

To my fellow graduates, I wish you luck in all of your endeavors. Whatever you try to do in life, give it your all. If you have learned anything at Bridgewater State College, I hope it is hard work and perseverance. As you go into the "real world" remember the immortal words of a long gone poet: "Success is the number of people's lives that you touch." (Or something like that, you get the point.) And always KEEP SMILING!!!

Good luck to everyone!

Mr. Meany: It DID go in the yearbook!

Which way did they go? I'm their leader!

Say CHEESE!

Can you find what is wrong with this picture? Something's backwards!

Hit me with your best shot!

OH-MAH-GOD!

Laundry Time!

How come I feel like somebody's watching me?

I've been blinded by Zoology!

I am woman — Hear me ROAR!

I said, "DON'T TAKE MY PICTURE!"

Take me to your Leader . . .

We don't have a leader!!!

Rock, Paper, Scissors — I WIN!

It's VELCRO MAN!

Peek-A-Boo!

“Everybody out of the . . . ceiling?”

“Where’s the tornado?”

"DON'T WORRY! You can trust us."

"Where old textbooks go to die."

"Anybody recognize these guys?"

“What is it?”

“You light up my life?”

“And the final opinion on GER’s.”

Sitting here, I think back.
Years of knowing what to expect,
Every day much the same,
Classes, tests, homework . . .
No surprises.

All that is over.
College life is about to end.
What is in store for the future?
That I cannot tell . . .
There are nothing but surprises.

As I stand on the edge,
I look back,
I remember you all, my friends,
as I will always remember you.
You are my past, you are my present,
If only in spirit, you will be my future.

"Through The Door To Your Horizon . . .," Volume 97 of the Bridgewater State College Yearbook, was printed by Taylor Publishing Company out of their Dallas, Texas publishing plant.

Color Senior Portraits were taken by Advanced Photographic Services of Swansea, Massachusetts. Portraits were not accepted from any other studio to ensure consistency with the background as the portraits were printed in color. Candid photography of such events as Convocation and Graduation were also provided by A.P.S., as well as the photos in the Clubs and Organizations section.

Yearbooks were available to all members of the Bridgewater State College Community. The ordering process was handled by the Student Activities Office. Funding for the Yearbook was through the Student Government Association.

Special thanks to Michelle Crie and Anne-Marie Sweeney for their hard work on the art featured on our divider pages.
